

howto AMRO

AMRO is not "MADE" but it rather comes together –

Art Meets Radical Openness <http://radical-openness.org/> is a community festival happening on biennial rhythm. As a community event, rather than being “made” or being “curated”, it is the moment in which its community gathers and exchanges. We like to say that AMRO is a “self organizing” festival, most of it emerges naturally.

Especially as a gathering of a widespread, changing community, however, the actual production of the festival relies on a few, yet essential, contributions done over the years by almost the same people and their knowledge,

This wiki is thought as a space to reflect upon and document this knowledge and practices forming the event editions taking place so far. With the hope that this may help structuring and coordinating the upcoming AMRO edition(s).

the url “make.radical-openness.org” is not only a joke on the intention of making radical openness, but also a friendly ping to the make art festival by goto10 <https://archive.bleu255.com/makeart/main/>, which inspired us into what was first LIWOLI and then AMRO.
